Legacy Traditional Schools -
Alamo Ranch*

Principal Eddie Woods is a longtime Legacy Traditional Schools educator and school leader, having spent close to seven years in administration for four Legacy campuses in Arizona. In addition to his depth of knowledge and experience with Legacy, Eddie also brings more than two decades of experience in education to his new role.

“I'm tremendously thankful and excited for the opportunity to open a new campus in Alamo Ranch,” said Woods.

“Legacy has become home for our family, and I'm honored to help bring a world-class educational experience to even more students and families in Texas.”

At every Legacy school, students receive a tuition-free, rigorous and well-rounded education emphasizing all areas of academic study, including the arts, physical education, and extensive athletics and extracurricular activities.

The Alamo Ranch campus will enroll up to 1,400 students and offer tuition-free Pre-K through 8th grade. When completed, the campus will consist of 47 classrooms, offices, a gym, athletic fields, a library, a piano lab, an indoor basketball court and artificial turf field, a commercial kitchen, and a cafeteria.

The Alamo Ranch campus will provide:

Tuition-Free Kindergarten through 8th Grade

Tuition-Free Pre-Kindergarten for qualifying families

Well-rounded education

State-of-the-art facilities

Before- and after-school programs

Free breakfast and lunch

Sports and music curriculum tracks

Musical performances

Competitive after-school sports
