

Fibroid Fighters Hosts Instagram Live "Guys Let's Chat" on Dec. 28

NORTHBROOK, IL, UNITED STATES, December 15, 2022 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Fibroid Fighters presents an Instagram Live event, "Guys, Let's Chat" hosted by author and Fibroid Ambassador, Eugenia Buie on Wednesday, December 28, at 6 pm [EST].

Eugenia talks with Sidney Karr, Vice-President, Sickle Cell Thalassemia Patients Network (SCTPN), and Pastor Gregory Griffin, Roberson Memorial Church, about how men can support their partners that suffer from fibroid disease, which are non-cancerous growths in the uterus. The free program can be seen on @fibroidfighters Instagram Live.

Buie, who suffered from fibroid disease before undergoing successful UFE treatment, hosts the IG Live, "Girls, Let's Chat" to help other women, learn more about fibroid symptoms and treatment.

An estimated 26 million Americans have fibroids; of those, about 15 million suffer from debilitating symptoms, including heavy menstrual bleeding, intense pelvic pressure or pain, bladder problems, and fertility issues.

As a Fibroid Fighters Ambassador, Buie strives to bring authentic conversation about fibroids, symptoms, and treatment to women across the United States, sharing their fibroid journeys to increase awareness about this disease. The National Institutes of Health estimates that most women will develop one or more uterine fibroids during their reproductive lifespan. Black women are at an increased risk for fibroid disease.

The graphic features a woman with long braids, Eugenia Buie, wearing a light pink blazer over a white top.
