

Exemplifi announces partnership with Weglot, an all-in-one-solution for multilingual sites

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED

STATES, December 15, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Exemplifi, the leader in enterprise website development, announced today that it has partnered with Weglot, an all-in-one solution that translates and displays multilingual sites without the need for code.

"As an enterprise website development firm, we work with clients that have a global footprint. This requires us to build websites that address the needs of users across multiple geographies and languages," said Vinod Pabba, Founder of Exemplifi. "Weglot is an elegant solution for us to deploy automated translation capabilities for our customers' websites. It's ease-of-use helps our customer scale rapidly by reducing the time-to-market for launching multilingual sites."

"We work with most of the enterprise-grade content management platforms and Weglot is well-integrated with them", he continued. "Their product strikes the right balance between ease of use and the need for custom translation workflows. It works by detecting and automatically translating all your website content which you can then easily fine-tune yourself, or collaborate with pro-translators through the Weglot dashboard."
