ocean and the Maidstone Club on an unprecedented three acres (twice the average size lot for properties in the area). Designed by Norman Jaffe, featured in the Museum of Modern Art (MOMA) and famed for his modern Hamptons beach houses, 100 Further Lane is the only of its kind, presenting the rare opportunity to live in an architectural masterpiece.

“This is arguably the best-dressed property in the Hamptons, so it was not only fitting to have the opening of bidding choreographed with yesterday evening's live sale at Sotheby's New York—our largest and most anticipated of the year—but also as the only property to conclude in the first week of the new year,” said President of Sotheby's Concierge Auctions, Chad Roffers.

This exquisite home features natural wood, high ceilings, and sunlight that runs throughout the spacious living areas, Jaffe's signature style. Each of the four ensuite bedrooms are set in a separate wing, ideal for hosting guests, and complete with large walk-in closets. The open living and dining rooms offer a look out onto the spacious landscaped lawns, and the entertaining areas flow smoothly through the main level from the study to the contemporary, eat-in chef's kitchen. Ocean breezes await you from the backyard or nearby Two Mile Hollow and Egypt Beach. Amenities abound outside on the expansive acreage with an in-ground pool and tennis court. A home unlike any other, this once-in-a-lifetime property in prestigious East Hampton is simply unmatched.

"This modern oasis is truly unlike any other East Hampton property, offering absolute silence and serenity across its three acres, while situated close to the ocean and the Maidstone Club and East Hampton Village," adds Baker.

Not far from the bright lights of downtown Manhattan are the windswept beaches and luxurious communities of the Hamptons. Known worldwide for arts, outdoor recreation, and luxury shopping and dining, the Hamptons are made up of historic seaside villages that attract visitors all year long. Jerry Seinfeld, Lorne Michaels and Carl Icahn also own property here. In the summer, you can enjoy the surf and sun at one of the many beaches and in the winter admire the natural beauty
