Here is what you might have missed from some well-kept secrets in music, and what's coming soon. Indie pop and alternative hip hop are evolving to a whole new level.

1. Broke by Jack Fargo

LA Pop artist Jack Fargo picked up steam in 2022 with his viral single "Broke" along with other strong releases. With the momentum gained from the successes in 2022, he is expected to continue with big things in 2023. He is still flying largely under the radar, but his fresh sound of relaxed vocals, star-powered production, and feel good music will make him something special to watch.

2. Culprit by Reverse Mechanic

Minneapolis rapper/producer Reverse Mechanic has been releasing new content every month since early 2022, with more new singles and music videos scheduled every month through the entirety of 2023. His 2022 hit "The Culprit" led the charge to the over 175,000+ youtube views he racked up in 2022. His lyricism is top notch, and his music videos are wildly entertaining.
