Update on Abbott Recalled Baby Formula Litigation

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, UNITED STATES, December 18, 2022

/Einpresswire.com/ -- On February 27,

2012 Abbott Laboratories, Inc.

“(Abbott”) announced it was recalling powder formulas, including Similac, Alimentum and EleCare manufactured in Sturgis, Michigan, one of the company’s manufacturing facilities.

Additionally, on February 28, 2012

Abbott stated it was recalling one lot of Similac PM 60/40 (Lot # 27032K80 (can)

/ Lot # 27032K800 (case)) also manufactured in Sturgis, Michigan. Abbott stated it was recalling these products after four consumer complaints related to Cronobacter sakazakii or Salmonella Newport in infants who had consumed powder infant formula manufactured in this facility.

The announcement of the recall and contaminated baby formula resulted in the filing of hundreds of Abbott Baby Formula Recall Lawsuits by parents whose infants had consumed the contaminated baby formula and suffered severe health consequences, including death. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation (“MDL”) has consolidated all lawsuits, including consumer class actions and personal injury cases, in federal court involving Abbott’s baby formula recall which was traced back to contamination from its plant in Sturgis, Michigan in February 2022. The MDL Abbott Recalled Baby Formula Lawsuits were assigned to Judge Matthew F. Kennelly in the Northern District of Illinois. The case is captioned In Re: Recalled Abbott Infant Formula Products Liability Litigation, and the case number is MDL 3037 (N.D. Ill. Kennelly, J.).

If you or a loved one had an infant that was or is hospitalized because of using Abbott Recalled Baby Formula, specifically, Similac Baby Formula, Alimentum Baby Formula, or EleCare Baby Formula, which were purchased after August 2021, or you would like additional information at no charge, please visit us here.
