around the world. The members can also join as regular donors and supporters, supporting other IPC teams to execute their projects.

International Peace Commission is dedicated to amassing a huge range of Civil Society Organizations starting from local to international levels. It focuses on various aspects for the betterment of the global society including the youth, women empowerment, labor, education, environment, and so on.

Human Rights are not optional

Promote peace, health, equality, human rights, economic development, and educational access in developing nations, especially within the territory of the Organization's Participating States

Develop, establish and maintain 'Sister' relationships with institutions and like-minded organizations located in high GNP countries and IPC Participating States and Nations

Encourage peace and disarmament education, research, and the dissemination of research findings within the Organization's sphere of influence and globally

IPC also works to facilitate the participation of NGOs in the UN System. Making sure that NGOs have adequate access to UN meetings, conferences, special events, and documentation is a vital part of our work
