SAE Media Group reports: The Mobile Deployable Communications conference returns to London in January 2023 for its 16th year

LONDON, UK, December 20, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SAE Media Group is proud to announce the return of the Mobile Deployable Communications conference for its 16th successful year, taking place on 25 – 26 January 2023 in London, UK.

The fast pace of modern warfare requires agile, highly adaptable forces capable of rapid movement whilst maintaining a consistent communication and situational awareness capability.

Interoperability is also becoming increasingly important to ensure seamless command and control within a multinational coalition, especially given the rising operational tempo across Europe.

The Mobile Deployable Communications conference is designed to bring together global leading program managers, strategic decision-makers, industry experts and thought leaders to explore the latest developments in communications technology.

Visit the website at: <http://www.mobiledeployable.com/PR2> to find out more about the conference.

The 16th annual Mobile Deployable Communications conference will give delegates a unique opportunity to meet and network with senior military leaders and industry, and discover the latest communication technology to optimise battlefield C2.

Delegates interested attending will gain valuable insights from the strategic level down to the tactical and discover how interoperability is becoming increasingly important to ensure seamless command and control within a multinational coalition.

This conference will cover the importance of efficient and clear communications and how you can achieve operational success.
