

Memphis Firm Darrell Castle & Associates to Join Lawsuit Against Social Media Companies Over Childhood Mental Health

Memphis Personal Injury Firm Darrell Castle and Associates to Represent Minors Who Have Been Harmed by Social Media Use

MEMPHIS, TN, USA, December 23, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Darrell Castle & Associates today announced their plans to join a lawsuit against major social media companies for their failure to protect children from the harmful effects of their platforms on mental health.

According to Memphis social media attorney Darrell Castle, major tech companies have allowed their platforms to become breeding grounds for abuse. This includes, for example: cyberbullying, harassment, and exploitation. In addition, the dangers disproportionately affect children and adolescents. Their suit will allege these companies have profited from the abuse. Furthermore, they failed to adequately address the issues or implement sufficient safeguards to protect young users.

These companies have a legal and moral obligation to do better. Moreover, the families they harmed deserve justice. We intend to hold the social media giants accountable for their inaction.”

Children's mental health has plummeted with social media use. A new lawsuit might change that.

In particular, the firm actively seeks clients who are 23 or younger and their families and whose social media use has led to physical harm. Examples include: suicidal ideation and action, eating disorders, sexual exploitation, and self-harm.

"Our children are being subjected to constant harassment and abuse on these platforms. As a result, their mental and physical health is at risk like no other time in history," said Darrell Castle, founder and lead attorney at Darrell

Castle & Associates. "These companies have a legal and moral obligation to do better. Moreover, the families they harmed deserve justice. We intend to hold the social media giants accountable for their inaction."

The suit seeks damages for the harm caused to children as a result of the companies' failure to protect their mental health. It will focus on children 23 and younger who have experienced physical harm as a result of social media use.

"It's time for these companies to step up and take responsibility for the harm they're causing to our children," said Castle. "We hope this lawsuit will bring about much-needed change and finally help protect the mental health of our youth."
