NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATE, December 28, 2022
/EINPresswire.com/ -- Global Market Trend

The silver powders and flakes market is rapidly increasing its global footprint.

According to recent reports, the global silver powder and flakes market size was valued at USD 2.7 billion in 2019 and is expected to reach USD 4.2 billion by 2027, with a compound annual growth rate of 5.10%. This can be attributed to the increasing demand for silver powders and flakes in various industries such as electronics, automotive, jewelry, among others.

Factors such as growing usage of silver powders in photovoltaic cells for energy generation coupled with rising awareness about eco-friendly products are projected to drive market growth over the forecast period. Additionally, government initiatives aimed at encouraging use of renewable energy sources will have an additional positive effect on the markets' expansion.

The silver powders and flakes market is facing a variety of challenges as well as opportunities. On the one hand, rising cost of raw materials has been putting pressure on the manufacturers in this sector, increasing their cost of production. Moreover, changes in consumer preferences have been making it difficult for suppliers to meet their demands. Furthermore, stringent regulations imposed by governments around the world have also become an obstacle for businesses in this market to expand their operations.

On the other hand, there exist numerous opportunities for growth and expansion within this sector. For instance, technological advancements are allowing companies to increase their efficiency and quality of products offered. Additionally, growing demand from various industries such as electronics and healthcare is creating a huge potential for growth in this space.

The key market players listed in the report with their sales, revenues and strategies are Ames Goldsmith, DOWA Hightech, Metalor, DuPont, Johnson Matthey, Mitsui Kinzoku, Technic, Fukuda, Shoei Chemical, AG PRO Technology, MEPCO, Cermet, Yamamoto Precious Metal, TANAKA, Shin Nihon Kakin, Tokuriki Honten, Tongling Nonferrous Metals Group Holdin.
