Key Trends In The Cigarettes, Cigars And Cigarillos Market

Cigarette manufacturing companies are using innovative filter technologies to reduce toxicants in cigarettes and enhance the smoking experience. Advanced filters use a high-tech binder in addition to standard carbon, paper, and glue. They are capable of filtering up to 80% more gas-phase toxicants than mono-acetate filters and carbon-on-tow filters. These filters maximize the surface area of carbon available to smoke without sacrificing product performance. British American Tobacco (BAT) is using Flow Filter technology in its Lucky Strike, Dunhill, Kent, Pall Mall, and Rothmans cigarette brands.
