the polycarbonate sheets market is predicted to reach a value of $2.49 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.88%. The Russia-Ukraine war disrupted the chances of global economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, at least in the short term. The war between these two countries has led to economic sanctions on multiple countries, a surge in commodity prices, and supply chain disruptions, affecting many markets across the globe. The polycarbonate sheets market is expected to reach $3.04 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 5.13%. Increasing demand from building and construction is contributing to the growth of the polycarbonate sheet market.

Key Trends In The Polycarbonate Sheets Market

Technological advancement is a key trend gaining popularity in the polycarbonate sheet market.

The rapid advancement of polycarbonate sheet manufacturing technologies has significantly enhanced the efficiency and output of sustainable material solutions. For example, in July 2021, SABIC launched sustainable polycarbonate sheet products. The new film and sheet products will connect with the company's existing TRUCIRCLE initiative and respond to a world-growing demand for sustainable material solutions in an increasingly circular plastics economy.

Overview Of The Polycarbonate Sheets Market

The polycarbonate sheets market consists of sales of polycarbonate sheets by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are used for applications requiring transparency and high impact resistance. Polycarbonate sheet refers to a thermoplastic that comes in a transparent sheet. It is tough and absorbs minimal moisture, making it resistant to impact damage and water damage. It is flame-retardant and chemically resistant. Polycarbonates are being manufactured by condensation polymerization of bisphenol A and phosgene.
