Analysis of the impact of the Russia-Ukraine War and COVID-19

The ongoing hostilities between Russia and Ukraine have had a significant impact on the architectural acoustic panels market. The conflict has disrupted the supply of key components, such as soundproofing materials, which has led to a decline in demand for acoustic panels. Additionally, the war has resulted in damages to property, which has led to a decline in demand for acoustic assemblies and related products.

After the COVID-19 epidemic, it has been demonstrated that Architectural Acoustic Panels (AAPs) had a favourable effect on the market. This is because AAPs can drastically lower sound levels, which makes them perfect for locations with high levels of noise pollution. AAPs can also be used in a wide range of settings, including clinics, schools, and workplaces.
