LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, December 30, 2022
/EINPresswire.com/ -- Los Angeles, California - GTK PR Talent Agency-Hollywood Legends Magazine.

Hollywood Legends Magazine was launched on November 5, 2022, by California-based GTK PR Talent Agency. A multifacet magazine will feature regular editions of the latest gossip of the entertainment industry, interviews of stars, emerging talent, and updates about upcoming music tracks and movies; the special section is allocated for the blast from past where memories of some of the renowned works of globally acclaimed artists will be seen in a retrospect. The woman behind turning the dream of a PR agency into reality, the owner of GTK PR Talent Agency, Sherry Lee, announced the magazine launch in an interview with local media.

Sherry Lee, Publicist/Editor in Chief

Having Virtual Satellite Offices in Los Angeles, Atlanta, New Orleans, New York, London, and Huntsville and clients in Los Angeles, Atlanta, New York, Florida, Nashville, Alabama, and New Orleans, England, and has expanded outside of the United States of America by having a Canada based client on board, the publicist Sherry Lee has made a name for herself in the Public Relations for her extraordinary services and a vast network covering a wider range of audience for her clients. She has been serving many big names in the entertainment industry for the past many years. Expanding her horizons and coming up with something exciting, interesting, and engaging for the Hollywood fans, she has come up with the Hollywood Legends Magazine, the first look of which can be viewed at Hollywood Legends Magazine.

Sharing about her journey to become a publicist, Sherry recalled how it all was in a moment of realization. Also, an engineer by profession and a mother at home, becoming an owner of a PR agency was a thought never embraced by Sherry. It was her son's interest in acting that she found her own unidentified skills, which were soon to become her destiny. Coming out stronger from rather unfortunate events, the love and passion of her son moved her closer to who she is today. Her son was the first ever talent she dealt with, which was soon recognized in her proximity with many emerging talents trusting her for their future endeavors; with a small setup and no intention of opening an official PR talent agency, GTK-PR Talent Agency today stands at one of the best and most frequented by the emerging talent of millennials and generation Z artists.

As a Publicist, Mother, Engineer and now Editor in Chief of a magazine that grew up in Speake, Alabama. I am so blessed at all the support and accomplishments I have achieved here in Los Angeles.”

Sherry Lee

Once associated with GTK, an artist is in safe hands, certain to be on the pathway to success. And the best part, it is one of the most affordable options available, given the post-pandemic price hike.

'It is beyond words to explain how I feel about launching Hollywood Legends Magazine. I started from nowhere just wanting an opening for my son, and it has been a long, tedious journey but worth it. It has been emotionally overwhelming. As an engineer pursuing Ph.D, I had no idea destiny had this in store for me. We have built into a full-fledged agency that will cater to all the needs. Show some
