GREEN BAY, WISCONSIN, UNITED STATES, December 30, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Logistics Recycling Inc., a Green Bay, WI-based company that provides safe, cost-effective, and compliant recycling solutions for businesses, announced its expansion into the lamp recycling industry.

Logistics Recycling Inc.'s goal is to provide safe, cost-effective, and compliant recycling solutions for businesses throughout Wisconsin that want to dispose of their used lamps safely. It offers these services at no additional charge on top of current waste removal fees to save money and improve environmental awareness by reducing waste disposal costs.

The company has been providing quality service since it opened its doors; however, it has recently expanded its operations specifically tailored toward light bulb recycling needs required by state regulations and federal law. This means they can ensure compliance without having any trouble getting approval from local authorities.

With their new line of services, Logistics Recycling Inc. can offer businesses that utilize lamps a safer solution for their waste product. This is because the company has developed a comprehensive collection and recycling program for all batteries, including alkaline, lithium, and rechargeable ones.

A person might be able to put the hazardous waste in a bin, but what happens if someone else finds out? If the process of recycling or disposing of hazardous waste is done without any experience then LRI is here. Its staff understands exactly how important it is for its customers to make sure their hazardous materials are disposed of in an environmentally sustainable way and will take care of all needs so that there is zero worry about it at all.
