The key highlights of the report include:

Market Overview (2017-2027)

- Historical Market Size (2021): USD 6.9 billion
- Forecast CAGR (2022-2027): 6.20%
- Forecast Market Size (2027): USD 9.9 billion

The crawler dozers sector is expanding as a result of rising building activity worldwide brought on by rapid urbanisation and rising disposable income. The market is expanding due to the increasing use of modern crawler dozers on construction sites due to their increased performance, better worksite visibility, traction, precision, and speed, which boosts productivity and expedites task completion. Additionally, the investments made by contractors in projects requiring a lot of heavy machinery lead to an increase in the need for earth-moving construction equipment, which in turn drives the need for crawler dozers.

The usage of heavy machinery like crawler dozers in the agricultural sector is being driven by the expansion of large-scale agricultural activities, which is accelerating market expansion. Land clearing, ploughing, soil puddling, subsoil draining, direct seeding, and harvesting may all be done effectively using crawler dozers. Additionally, it aids in boosting plant intensity and lowering labour expenses, which supports the market expansion of crawler dozers.

Crawler Dozers Industry Definition and Major Segments

A bulldozer often referred to as a crawler dozer, is a large, powerful, and heavy-tracked machine fitted with cutting metal blades up front. It is used to push materials during a variety of tasks, and it has an engine that is situated up front to help. The crawler dozers frequently move on continuous tracks, which provide them outstanding mobility through rough terrain.
