getting calls for interviews. For example, YES Career Coaching & Resume Writing Services works with clients to develop initial drafts of a cover letter and resume before finalizing and approving them to enhance the chances of securing an interview call from the prospective employer.

"When I first contacted YES, I was looking for something different in my career. My entire career has been in education, and I was looking to get out of school and district-based roles and into a nonprofit or private company. YES revamped my resume and LinkedIn profile, which was helpful and a positive experience. I liked having different options, and Nathan was great at incorporating my feedback well to deliver products I was happy with. The sessions with Michael were really helpful. Even though I didn't get a chance to have my mock interview session, the training materials were great and helped me prepare for interviews, and I ended up getting a new job!" – DD

Although many working professionals and job seekers understand the importance of a good resume and cover letter, finding an affordable and experienced resume-writing service can be challenging. However, there are ways to find a professional resume-writing service. For example, one can do research, read reviews and testimonials from past clients, and check out the company's website to learn more about its services and writers. Consider working with a resume writer with relevant credentials, such as a Certified Professional Resume Writer (CPRW) designation. Talking with a few services about the number of revisions permitted and additional support can also help. Feeling comfortable and confident with the selected service is essential, so don't hesitate to ask questions. A company like YES Career Coaching & Resume Writing Services can help craft a professional resume and cover letter that helps improve your chances of getting your dream job.
