OCR is set to engage Chris Miller, author of the book "Chip War: The Fight for the World's Most Critical Technology" on January 31 at 10AM ET.

UNITED STATES, January 9, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- OCR is set to engage Chris Miller, author of the highly acclaimed book "Chip War: The Fight for the World's Most Critical Technology" on Tuesday January 31 at 10:00AM - 11:00 AM ET in a book talk followed by a fireside chat. Viewers are invited to register for this free event on OCR's website for an insider perspective into the complex global issues behind this page-turning work of nonfiction.

This critically acclaimed book was dubbed the Business Book of the Year in 2022 by Financial Times. Regarding Chip War, Forbes raved, "Fascinating...A historian by training, Miller walks the reader through decades of semiconductor history – a subject that comes to life thanks to [his] use of colorful anecdotes...Chip War makes clear that the battle for the multi-billion-dollar struggle for semiconductor supremacy in an increasingly-digitized world will only intensify in the years to come."

Sitting fireside with Abhishek Kishore, OCR's Managing Director - International, Miller will discuss how key industry concerns, including immigration, talent retention, and the global supply chain, link back to semiconductor technology. Learn how microchips became such a critical commodity, how they fit into civilian and non-civilian sectors, and why nations are vying to control the industry.
