equity firm IBS Institutional Capital (IBS), an IBS Investment Bank sister company (IBS, N.A.), today announced it completed its initial investment into South Florida multi-state security company, XpressGuards, LLC (XpressGuards).

Through a combination of financing, the IBS investment provided XpressGuards with capital to acquire patrol cars, support new and existing contracts, and refinance its debt obligations with more favorable terms. The firm anticipates completing add-on investments by the end of the first quarter of 2023 to support XpressGuard's technology development, national expansion, and M&A activities. “We are excited that IBS has joined our team not just as a financier but as a seasoned partner who can support us in accomplishing our long-term goals,” said Moise Louissaint, XpressGuards Founder, and Chief Executive Officer.

IBS has been noted as a corporate and real estate finance since 2011. To date, the firm has completed nearly a dozen similar investments for companies located within its South Florida locale. “Our team's support of XpressGuards will continue to provide them a distinct advantage in successfully navigating the current markets. We fully support Mr. Louissaint and his team and are highly anticipating their continued success,” IBS Chief Investment Officer Jason Jackson told reporters.
