

EPIC's Transportation & Logistics Practice Launches AI-Enabled QuickContract™ Technology & Risk Management Solution

PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA, USA, January 10, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- EPIC Insurance Brokers & Consultants has launched its AI-enabled QuickContract™ solution that allows EPIC's transportation & logistics clients to quickly identify and manage insurable risks in commercial contracts. EPIC's QuickContract solution is initially being offered to its transportation & logistics clients, who can choose from different packages that best meet the needs of their business. The program delivers a comprehensive, integrated, cost-effective solution that helps create client awareness of key risks in transportation contracts and other "business-as-usual" contracts, as well as helping clients understand & purchase the right policies & limits working with their trusted insurance professional.

EPIC couldn't be more excited about our new partnership with LegalSifter and Transaction Expeditors”
Philip DiChiara, EPIC Insurance Brokers & Consultants

In partnership with LegalSifter® and Transaction Expeditors, LLC, EPIC developed its QuickContract program to leverage artificial intelligence and human expertise to quickly identify risk in some of the most commonly negotiated transportation agreements, including Broker-Shipper, Broker-Carrier, and Shipper-Carrier Agreements. The software has been configured to offer proprietary tips and guidance from EPIC to their clients related to key insurability and indemnification provisions that lurk in contracts.

"EPIC couldn't be more excited about our new partnership and service offering. The QuickContract program helps clients focus on risk reduction and provides general information about insurance that drives success and better results for them," says Philip DiChiara, Global Transportation & Logistics Practice Leader at EPIC Insurance Brokers & Consultants.

"I am extremely excited for LegalSifter to be part of launching the EPIC QuickContract program. LegalSifter dedicates itself to advancing artificial intelligence that makes contracts easier to read, negotiate, and organize. This program is a significant step forward in LegalSifter's mission to bring affordable legal services to the world and we are honored to be partnered with EPIC and Transaction Expeditors," says Kevin Miller, CEO of LegalSifter.

"Transaction Expeditors and LegalSifter are equally thrilled to add EPIC as their newest transportation insurance partner," says Michael Case, CEO at Transaction Expeditors. "The QuickContract program offers technology and transportation contract expertise that is being embraced throughout the insurance industry." EPIC expects it will expand its QuickContract offering to clients in other industries they serve in the near future.
