“The best way to prevent cavities and gum disease is to brush twice a day and floss at least once a day,” says Dr. Matthew Lang of Center Valley Dental. “And keep up with your regular dental visits. We strive to make care comfortable, accessible, and affordable so that patients want to come to the dentist.”

Center Valley Dental offers sedation dental services for those who may have a tough time sitting in the hygienist's room. Patients will be put under local anesthesia and won't have to experience any sort of anxiety during their visit.

In addition to general and family dentistry, Center Valley Dental also offers cosmetic dentistry, like crowns, veneers, and dental implants. Single-visit crowns in Center Valley are created using CEREC technology. Digital impressions are taken, then the crown is made in-house so Dr. Lang and his team have complete control over the crown's shape, size, and feel.
