“Because Invisalign is transparent, a lot of people choose them over traditional braces” explains Dr. John Pardini, orthodontist in Exton. “During a free consultation, we'll review the patient's orthodontic needs and help them decide which treatment will be more successful for them.”

Invisalign is often recommended for adult patients who need slight adjustments, or who have had braces in the past. Because Invisalign is removable, patients must remember to place them back into their mouths after meals and clean them properly in order to ensure treatment is effective.
