Cryptorooft allows users to list properties for sale and rent globally, making it easy for individuals to buy and sell homes, both traditionally and with digital assets.

With users from over 150 countries and growing daily, Cryptorooft is quickly becoming the go-to platform for real estate transactions. The platform is also attracting attention from realtors and real estate brokers looking to gain more exposure and attract more clients.

"We're excited to be bridging the gap between digital assets and real property," said Isaac Ivgi, co-founder of Cryptorooft. "We believe that the only way for real adoption of cryptocurrencies is to have real, simple ways for users to transact, and that's where Cryptorooft steps in."

The founders of Cryptorooft, Isaac Ivgi and Eytan Grossman, understand the trend of a more global world where people are increasingly interested in exploring new areas of living . Cryptorooft acts as a property listing marketplace, and is building out a concierge system to simplify the home buying and renting process internationally from beginning to end, even with digital assets.

"We're making it easy for anyone to buy and sell properties, even if they're not familiar with digital assets," said Eytan Grossman, co-founder of Cryptorooft.
