

Launch of the “Tintin NFT Collection”

arteQ and Tintinimaginatio, confirmed their intentions to venture into digital artworks by launching the first NFT featuring the image of Tintin.

VIENNA, AUSTRIA, January 13, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tintinimaginatio has chosen for its dual Tintin NFT release the draft illustration project for the cover of The Blue Lotus book, sent by Hergé to the publisher on February 12th, 1936.

1777 purely digital NFTs of the same illustration. This collection is individually numbered with each having a specific characteristic that will unlock a world of utilities.

777 framed physical prints, each authenticated by an NFT certificate and numbered from 001/777 to 777/777.

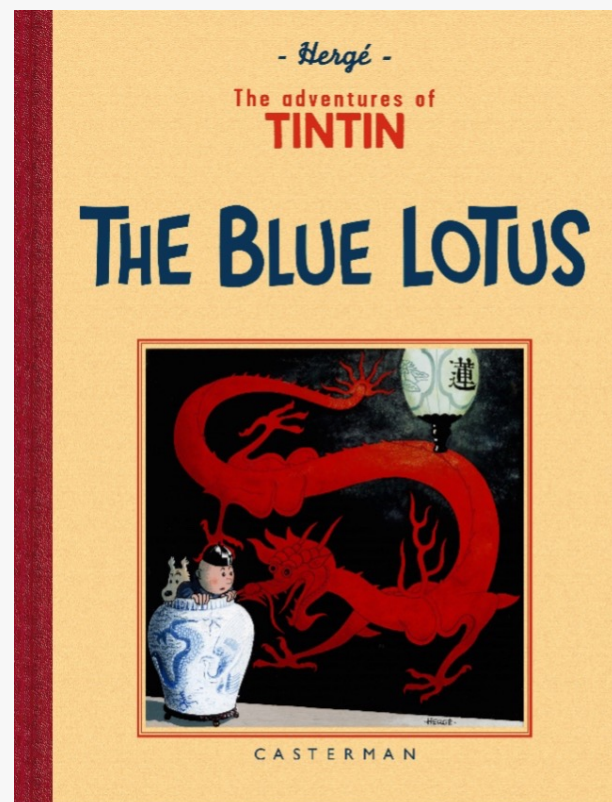

Noting that these digital assets are derivatives of a singular blockchain-verified and rightfully owned genesis NFT by Tintinimaginatio.

In addition, these unique technological holdings provide an in-depth knowledge of the work that occupies a singular place in the artistic output of Hergé. For this reason, they will be accompanied by a digital booklet devised by the Hergéologist, Philippe Goddin.

Knowledge of the history is essential, because it is a source of value. The principle of the NFT* -
