

FXGlobe Welcomes Industry Veteran Adam Harris as New Global Ambassador

FXGlobe enhances trader education with Adam Harris joining its ranks as a Global Ambassador, leveraging his vast experience in the industry to empower traders.

LIMASSOL, CYPRUS, January 20, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FXGlobe is thrilled to welcome Adam Harris as one of the company's new Global Ambassadors. Adam is a seasoned trader based in London, UK, who brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the role.

As an Ambassador, Adam's goal is to empower traders with the knowledge and tools necessary to succeed in the fast-paced world of trading. He wants to help traders develop the confidence and skills to earn a secondary or primary source of income through safe and effective trading.

His teaching style focuses on trend trading, encouraging traders to pick one strategy and commit to completing 100 trades perfectly. He believes that mastering a single strategy can increase traders' chances of long-term success and profitability.

Never attribute to malice that which is adequately explained by stupidity.”

– Hanlon's razor

Adam's professional reputation is built on his extensive experience in the trading industry. He began trading as a way to have more control over his financial future—and no earnings ceiling. Employing compounding wherever possible can produce income increases throughout the year. He currently trades multi-accounts for select clients or private businesses in the UK.

Adam is certified for Anti-Money Laundering for Investment Firms and holds the CFA Institute Investment Foundations certification. He is a member of the prestigious Society of Technical Analysts (STA), which demonstrates his dedication to staying up-to-date with the latest industry developments.

In his free time, Adam likes to travel, and experience different cultures' cuisine and history. Some of his favorite destinations include the Maldives, Cape Town, Spain, Isreal, and the US. A look at his social media will show him trading from the ski slopes in France to the beaches of Ibiza with his fiancé.

Adam's favorite financial instrument is S&P500, and he speaks English, some Afrikaans, and broken Spanish. His favorite quote, known as Hanlon's razor, reflects his pragmatic and analytical approach to trading: "Never attribute to malice that which is adequately explained by stupidity."

Adam goes to great pains to avoid believing in baseless conspiracies and misinformation—something he believes is on the rise and contributes to many people's suffering and misery.

As an Ambassador, Adam will be sharing his insights and expertise with FXGlobe traders and helping them navigate the complex world of trading. He will be providing valuable information and guidance through webinars, seminars, and other educational resources.

His ideal hope is to spare newer traders avoidable pains wherever possible. Pay attention and you should become a more consistent trader faster.

Adam believes that trading is a learnable skill, much like learning a new language, musical instrument, or professional sport, but learning the right things first is absolutely crucial.

We are excited to have Adam on board and look forward to the valuable contributions he will make to our community of traders.
