

Tarps Now® Releases Guide to Garage Tarps and Industrial Curtains

Guide Released in Response to DIY, Warehousing and Industrial Interest in Tarps

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, January 18, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tarps Now® is pleased to announce the Guide to Garage Tarps and Industrial Curtains which is focused on uses in commercial garages, auto body shops, workshops, plants, and other work areas around the United States and North America. With more than the 82 million residential garages in use by home and landowners, industrial curtains and garage tarps provide a huge range of protection for many purposes. They are made of durable fabrics that include vinyl, clear vinyl, poly, canvas, and mesh. Garages, both commercial and residential, along with other useful and productive spaces such as workshops, warehouses, studios, manufacturing plants, halls and theatres.

In the context of garages and workshops in particular, canvas tarps are deployed in a very wide variety of applications within garages, plants, warehouses and workshops. Many of the canvas tarp products on the market are made with heavy duty cotton fabric that is tightly woven. Specific waterproof and water-resistant tarps are available to generate water protection for your material, vehicles, and structures from water and other moisture issues.

Heavy duty tarps are also frequently used, as they come in many fabrics such as vinyl, clear vinyl, canvas, poly, and mesh while industrial curtains made from the same materials help provide an effective way to divide up and guard space along with the use of curtain tracking systems and hardware. Examples include the following product types:
