"When I ask women about what's holding them back in the business world, I always hear that they can't understand why they aren't further along despite all the money and time they have invested in other courses, masterminds, and personal growth seminars.' These are successful, top coaches, consultants and visionaries who cannot seem to surrender and receive more money and magic – the joy in life," explains Dr. Kelly. "In the three days we have in Boulder, we will prove that scarcity is an illusion and how 'Living the Limitless' is possible and attainable."

The Dairy Arts Center in Boulder, Colorado, will serve as the venue for the three-day event, starting on Friday, March 17th, through Sunday, March 19th. The schedule of events is as follows, with limited speaking engagements:

money and determine their worth by stopping the roller coaster, allowing for peace and prosperity.
