Some Key Highlights From the Report

The laser-based devices segment is expected to register a rapid revenue CAGR during the forecast period. To treat a variety of skin conditions, lasers have been hailed as a miraculous cosmetic enhancement technique because their beam softly vaporizes skin tissues. Laser devices are used to treat a variety of skin conditions such as pigmentation, wrinkles, fine lines, age spots, freckles, unwanted tattoos, acne scars, birthmarks, blemishes, seal blood vessels, spider veins, droopy, dry, sagging eyelid skin and dark circles, improve crow's feet around eyes, pucker marks, frown lines, brown spots, uneven skin color, uneven skin tone and texture, smokers' line, skin tightening, unwanted hair, skin tissue incision, and vascular lesions, which is expected to drive revenue growth of this segment.

The Platelet-Rich Plasma (PRP) therapy segment is expected to register a steady growth rate during the forecast period. It is used to treat torn tendons and is now widely employed to treat skin injuries as well. PRP was initially used by doctors to hasten healing process following jaw or plastic surgery. Due to lengthy recovery durations associated with treatments on these tissues, post-surgical PRP injections have now been expanded to assist in healing of muscles, tendons, and ligaments.

The North America market accounted for largest revenue share in 2021 due to rising demand for face treatments among women. Rapid growth rate of the North American market is attributed to high purchasing power of working professionals and expansion of company operations by well-known organizations.

On 10 January 2022, Theravant Corporation's announced that its TheraClear System assets will be acquired by STRATA Skin Sciences, which is a medical technology company committed to creating, commercializing, and distributing cutting-edge technologies for treatment of dermatologic disorders. Theravant creates and sells a cutting-edge, FDA-approved system for in-office treatment of numerous prevalent types of acne.
