ABOUT

Born and raised in the islands of Fiji, and currently hailing from Melbourne, Australia, Zeal Static is no stranger to poverty, hard life, a troublesome beginning, and reformation from a once street-led lifestyle which many of today's African, Indigenous, Latino, and Pacific Islanders identify with.

The rap and hip-hop scene has tremendously changed and evolved from what was classified as old school, west coast, and east coast flavor to the fast talk, hard lyrics, and energetic personification of today's artists. Attuning to the changes, Zeal Static had to switch up his style and follow suit while still holding onto his own brand of craft. The artist has adopted the realness and street attitude which he has been influenced by individuals like the late great Tupac Shakur and emcees like Rakim The God MC or West Coast bosses like Ice Cube.

A self-made man today, who started from the bottom and still has many levels to surpass, Static is constantly finding new ways to express himself, either through social media, TikTok, or in the studio being creative with music. This is definitely the year when he will be in the eyes of the world.
