leading technologies that will drive the next generation of advanced analytics and Data Science solutions. As we continue to focus on solutions that drive value for our customers, we will be dropping Computer Systems from our name to reflect our offering.

CR will lead the day-to-day operations of Genware with a significant focus on driving the Company's growth, offering, and global partnerships. He brings a deep background in executive leadership, strategy, sales, marketing, and technology. He spent 15 years in various positions at Wire-Stone, a full-service digital company, and was instrumental in its successful sale to Accenture in 2017. Most recently, he was CEO of MCX Technologies (TSXV: MCX, OTC: MCCX), a public entity focused on innovations in the Web 3.0 solutions market. He will remain a Director on the Board.

"CR brings proven success, specific industry experience, and a strategic vision to the Company's future. We believe CR's experience will further support our strategy to deliver value to our clients, employees and accelerate the Company's strategy," commented Founder & Chairman Sherlock Holmes.
