

Online Freedom Accelerator: From Corporate Job to Online Business Success

BASEL, SWITZERLAND, January 24, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In today's digital age, more and more people are looking to start their own online businesses as an alternative to traditional corporate jobs. However, for many beginners, the road to success can be long and uncertain. That's why entrepreneur Marvin Adam created the "Online Freedom Accelerator" program.

Marvin Adam, who quit his corporate career at only 23, has created a coaching program that has helped beginners and intermediate online marketers from all over the world to replace their corporate jobs with online businesses from home.

In 2016, Marvin quit his last ever job, and moved back in with his mother, then took his own online business from zero to $27,500 a month in his first year. He then decided to offer an alternative to standard marketing education that would help beginner entrepreneurs see results much faster: Online Freedom Accelerator.

Adam says, "Considering people spend $50,000 or more for a 4-year degree, are not financially free, but in debt for years, I think it's time to offer serious alternatives that can help anyone willing to learn new skills to make a six-figure salary from home. That's what I'm passionate about. Help people spend more time with their family or friends, and growing their income."

Some of the success stories from students of the Online Freedom Accelerator include Hassan from the US making $4,000 in the first week of starting the program, Stefano from Italy signing a $6,900 client on his first attempt, and Thomas from the Netherlands nearly hitting the $10,000 a month-mark in profit after 3 months of starting.

What sets the Online Freedom Accelerator apart from other programs is the unique approach Marvin and his team take. They built the website and funnels of their student's businesses in the first 5 days of enrollment, so they can start making profits immediately and seem established on the market from day 1 with a competitive advantage of using the same framework of Marvin's six-figure business model. Additionally, students learn how to outsource service fulfillment, allowing them to focus on signing more clients and accelerating the growth of their income.

Marvin Adam says, "We teach how to work ON your business, not IN your business. It would just be another job then, but that's what we want to help you change. We help people become leaders and CEOs in this program, regardless of their professional background."

The business program requires interested individuals to apply online, as Marvin and his team want to maintain their high success rate by getting to know their potential students first. Only a small minority gets accepted into their program every year.
