

National Public Safety Drone Donation Program ~ NPD-DDP.org Partners With Two New Key Supporters & Announces 2022 Awards

Law Enforcement Drone Association / LEDA & DRONELIFE Partners with National Public Safety Drone Donation Program & NPS-DDP.org Announces 4 Appreciation Awards.

HEBRON, CONNECTICUT, USA, February 7, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- It is a pleasure to have partners like this joining our foundation and support of public safety.

The Law Enforcement Drone Association (LEDA) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization created by law enforcement officers, for law enforcement officers who operate unmanned aircraft systems (drones) for public safety.

LEDA focuses primarily on training conference events throughout the country but also strives to create solid virtual content for its members. LEDA is setting the standard of training for law enforcement UAS operators throughout the country.

LEDA is passionate about the work the National Public Safety Drone Donation Program is doing and is partnering with them in an effort to bring UAS training to public safety agencies receiving donated aircraft. Law enforcement agencies, or public safety agencies supporting law enforcement in UAS operations who are chosen to receive an aircraft from the NPS-DDP.org will also receive a one-year LEDA membership which includes up to ten pilots so they can obtain the training resources they need to have an effective program.

DRONELIFE is entering their tenth year as a trusted resource for commercial drone news. DRONELIFE covers the companies, technology, regulations, events, and hot issues in the sUAS and advanced aviation industries. With more than 20,000 subscribers to their daily email and a global audience from all corners of the industry, DRONELIFE provides the daily information that pilots, enterprises, and stakeholders need to scale the use of commercial drones around the world.

“We’re true believers in the benefits that drones offer,” says Miriam McNabb, DRONELIFE Editor. “We know how incredibly valuable drone programs are for public safety organizations, and how successful these drone programs have proven. We’re proud to support the public safety community, and to support NPS-DDP.org in their work, providing communities across the country with the technology they need to do their jobs safely.”
