Understanding the different cloud options can be overwhelming and Azure savings plan is one more option to consider. Thankfully, with Azure savings plan estimates now part of CloudAtlas analysis, providing all the information needed to make the right decisions. CloudAtlas presents detailed cost estimates across a wide array of pricing options including pay-as-you-go, Azure Hybrid Use Benefits (AHUB), Reserved Instance and now Azure savings plan. Each plan has its own benefits with different levels of flexibility and cost, and CloudAtlas provides the analysis and insights to assess those benefits and choose the best option.

With Azure savings plan for compute, save up to 65% compared to pay-as-you-go pricing, optimize those savings automatically and save. This is done by making a 1- or 3-year compute commitment to get a reduced rate to utilize those compute resources across all regions, instance series and operating systems. This provides more flexibility than AHUB and Reserved Instance while still unlocking significant cost savings.

"A major part of the value of CloudAtlas is quick delivery of a comprehensive view of cloud options and the cost-saving opportunities available for each of those options." noted UnifyCloud's CTO and co-founder Vivek Bhatnagar. "With the inclusion of Azure savings plan for compute along with Azure Hybrid Use Benefits and Reserved Instance, CloudAtlas continues to give the most complete picture to guide digital transformation."
