

National Nursing Home & Care Facility Staffing Crisis Leads to Increase In-Home Care Service Provider Services

National nursing home crisis has led to the inability of many seniors and individuals with disabilities to receive the lifesaving care they need.

CARSON, CA, UNITED STATES, January 24, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Esther Ugwuala Founder of New U Home Care, LLC today announced the company's renewed commitment to providing quality care to all ages at home, enabling them to live happier, healthier and longer lives.

A national nursing home and care facility staffing crisis has led to the inability of many seniors, individuals with disabilities and other people who need assistance to receive the lifesaving care they so desperately need. Many facilities have closed. Facilities that remain open are facing major staffing issues.

This is not a minor issue. What we are seeing is unheard of. We have never seen so many people in need of assistance who are unable to receive it.”

From February 2020 to November 2021, the number of workers in nursing homes and other care facilities dropped by 410,000 nationally, according to the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics. Staffing has only rebounded slightly since then. Families across the country have been drastically affected and are desperate for viable options.

These closures are happening on an unprecedented scale. Government agencies are struggling to develop solutions that will resolve these issues. However, there is no time to lose. After over thirty years of nursing experience, Mrs Ugwuala, Founder of New U Home Care, LLC has come up with her own solution. Providing in-home care services to eligible individuals.

“If individuals are unable to receive assistance in hospitals and care facilities, we will go to them,” says Mrs. Ugwuala. "This is not a minor issue. What we are seeing is unheard of. We have never seen so many people in need of assistance who are unable to receive it. These are our elders, our seniors, our disabled and our families we are speaking of. Something has to be done and that's what we are doing at New U Home Care, LLC."

The New U Home Care, LLC services are distinguished by the caliber of their caregivers, the responsiveness of their staff, and the expertise in Live-in care. The company embraces a positive, balanced approach to aging centered on the evolving needs of older adults.
