committed via the internet. Yes, the Internet! As technology develops and becomes more complex, so do the associated risks to a Nation's Security. In response, CryptoMize helps Law Enforcement agencies from around the world navigate this new digital reality.

CryptoMize helps conduct investigations into notoriously difficult areas such as dark web activity, stolen data, and various forms of cybercrime. Their work has directly resulted in arrests, convictions, and sentencing.

"When we know our client's needs best, we provide them with unprecedented support and guidance in achieving their goals. This way, they can build better systems that focus on Cyber Forensics and Operational intelligence."

-Dr. Jyoti, COO at CryptoMize

Policing Phronesis is a new and innovative service that will help Law Enforcement Agencies defend against cyber threats by analyzing data from multiple sources and revealing hidden connections to strengthen their security posture. With this new announcement, CryptoMize has launched 'Policing Phronesis' globally, encompassing a wide range of sub-services, including Strategic Intelligence, Open Source Intelligence, Governance Support, and Cyber Forensics.

Cyber Forensics is the practice of collecting, analyzing, and reporting digital data in a legally admissible way. It is mainly used in criminal cases where evidence needs to be collected from a computer or a storage medium. This process allows investigators to present their findings as admissible in a court of law, which can be used against offenders in criminal proceedings.

CryptoMize's unique set of products is designed to help clients restore trust in their business through advanced technologies. They help provide advanced solutions for clients to protect their valuable data from almost all attacks.

Having plenty of experience in numerous fields, including Information Privacy, Cyber Security, and Information Technology, to name a few, Mr. Mukesh Sharma (CEO of CryptoMize) has been revolutionizing people's digital lives for a decade now. "Basic purpose of advance or current intelligence bodies is to ensure that the government faces no surprises and the information gathered helps it make informed decisions or take counter-action."

CryptoMize has proven its impact in 30+ Countries and 3+ Continents with the best results. The company has recently announced plans to bring Cyber Forensics and Cyber Intelligence together to offer a much better and upgraded version of Crime handling, which is a must for Effective Policing.

Policing Phronesis is being launched by the company to incorporate Smart Policing in Cities, States, and Nations by identifying offenders most easily and accurately as possible. CryptoMize has smartly clubbed together a total of 12 services under Policing Phronesis. These services are further bifurcated into Forensics and Intelligence, each Category possessing six services. The company has also added Strategic, Operational, and Tactical Intelligence to its incredible menu of services to cover the requirements of Military Operations.

CryptoMize's 'Policing Phronesis' will deliver clients more accurate and detailed intelligence reports. This new service will help organizations in their defensive action towards different types of Cyber crimes, including those that can put the security of an entire nation at risk, such as Cyber Terrorism and Information Warfare.

"We can fight everything if we have the right resources." Policing Phronesis makes this accurate by offering a new way of looking at Policing through a lens of intelligence.

Taking Intelligence as its baseline, CryptoMize helps in providing justice to People, Cities, and Nations by working with Law Enforcement Agencies and Defense personnel in all digital Forensic Investigations and cybercrimes. Thereby being the first in the world to connect Forensics and Intelligence in a combined service with an Intelligence-led Policing approach.
