

TekStream Achieves AWS Oracle Competency

Achievement recognizes TekStream's expertise in supporting and managing Oracle environments on AWS

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, January 27, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TekStream announced today it has received the Amazon Web Services (AWS) Oracle Competency. This achievement recognizes TekStream's deep expertise and extensive success in helping customers architect, transition and manage Oracle-based workloads running on AWS.

The AWS Oracle Services Competency further elevates TekStream's position within the AWS Partner Network (APN) by recognizing the company's specialized technical proficiency and proven customer success deploying Oracle-based workloads on AWS.

This new achievement differentiates TekStream among APN members with its proven ability to deliver solutions seamlessly on AWS.”

Judd Robins, Executive Vice President, Sales at TekStream

“We are very proud to receive the AWS Oracle Competency designation. This milestone highlights our decades of deep knowledge with both Oracle technology and AWS, the most comprehensive and broadly adopted cloud platform,” said Judd Robins, Executive Vice President, Sales at TekStream. “We are part of a small percentage of APN members that hold the AWS Oracle Competency status. Combined with our AWS Migration Consulting Competency, this new achievement differentiates TekStream among APN members with its proven ability to deliver solutions seamlessly on AWS.”

TekStream has a long history of supporting clients' Oracle environments, both on-prem and in the cloud. This latest AWS competency further demonstrates the company's commitment to offering an extensive range of expertise as clients continuously evaluate the most effective cloud and on-prem solutions for their unique business needs.
