

TOP RANKED "CBD HEALTH PODCAST" HOSTED BY DR. THOMAS ROCCO REVIEWS NOWAIT DELTA 8 TONGUE STRIPS

Tongue strips, unlike gummies, offers exact dosing and instant absorption without needing 45-60 minutes to metabolize like gummies.

ATLANTA, GA, USA, January 27, 2023

podcast "CBD Health," released its PodCast/YouTube interview with CEO of Supplements With Science ("SWS"), Drew Edwards, regarding the NoWait™ Delta 8 tongue strips. The tongue strips provide immediate absorption, exact dosing and avoidance of excessive sugars found with gummies. SWS is known for making the fast absorption MaxImpact™ CBD product line.

Doctors need exact dosages and tongue strips offer this plus immediate absorption. Tinctures are challenging because drop size or drops felt from the dropper vary. Gummies have inaccurate dosing.”

Users enjoy better sleep and better mood enhancement with the NoWait™ tongue strips. The strip form factor absorbs almost as fast as a vape or tincture but is way easier to take. The strips are better than gummies because they are easier to take, offer exact dosage for dependable repeatable results, have way less sugar and chemicals, and starts metabolizing immediately versus taking 1-2 hours to fully metabolize in the stomach.

Delta 8 is often cited to reportedly help with sleep and mood enhancement whether for excitement or to relax. The science around Delta 8, a natural cannabinoid found in cannabis leaves, is now mass produced from CBD but still newly researched. The 2018 Farm Bill legalized CBD, and its derivatives which can include Delta 8, as an unregulated supplement. However there are many reports, like from the FDA and University of Rochester, stating that most Delta 8 products are mislabeled in dosages.

“For Doctors exact dosages is key and tongue strips offer this plus immediate absorption. Tinctures are challenging because drop size or even drops felt from the dropper can vary.

Gummies have inaccurate dosing amounts, too much sugar, and presents overdosing risks because most people can't wait one hour for it to metabolize and take more than they should," says Dr. Thomas Rocco, a Surgeon and Medical Director and host of top-rated CBD Health podcast. "Many people use gummies as a fun lifestyle choice but do not realize the gummies' many downsides. NoWaitTM is a pharma-grade product that gives a person all the true benefits of Delta 8 but the best way to see is to try it," says Drew Edwards, Founder and CEO, Supplements with Science.

According to Harvard Health August 21, 2021 article, titled "The endocannabinoid system ("ECS"): Essential and mysterious", says Dr Grinspoon, a primary care physician, educator, and cannabis specialist at Massachusetts General Hospital, and an instructor at Harvard Medical School, "We are truly at the dawn of an age of discovery of the ECS and the development of new medicines that may help alleviate some of the cruelest diseases that people (and animals) suffer from."
