Invader Coffee, a military veteran-owned coffee company, has recently announced a plan to launch a new coffee blend called Invader Coffee Wake The Bones Blend. Invader Coffee's products are specifically crafted to deliver the taste of authentic ingredients without using any additional artificial additives for flavoring. This is also expected from their new blend that will be launched very soon. While the company is fairly new to the market, it has won the hearts of coffee lovers all over the country because of the balanced flavor that each of their blends bring. People who have tried their other coffee beans should wait in much excitement to try out this new blend.

One of the key factors that enables Invader Coffee to produce such fine, premium-quality coffee is their air roasting method. Unlike coffee beans from other brands that are drum roasted, their coffee beans are prepared using a hot air roaster that moves the coffee beans constantly with a perfectly controlled hot airflow. This prevents the beans from acquiring a burnt taste which happens when burnt chaff pop off and mixes with coffee beans in a roasting drum. Coffee beans being absorbent, easily infuse the burnt flavor along with carcinogen. Air roasting allows the beans to be roasted evenly to bring out the desired flavor and eliminate any contamination with undesired substances.

Invader Coffee sources its coffee beans from all over the world and partners with the best farms to procure only the highest-quality coffee beans. In keeping with its business values and principles, the company maintains fair trade with its farm partners. The company also offers 100% Money-Back Guarantee on certain conditions where the coffee beans do not meet the expectations of customers.

Speaking about the upcoming launch, the company's CEO Wes Whitlock said, " We're absolutely excited for the launch of this new blend. For coffee lovers who want quality coffee with no additives and no filler, Invader Coffee is the right coffee brand.
