About Quench Hydrate

Quench Hydrate was founded by renowned physician, Dr. Sarit Hovav. Dr. Hovav started out in Internal Medicine. She loved her patients and listening to their stories but was disheartened when much of her time was spent in the treatment of chronic disease without much attention to preventative care.

She left clinical medicine to take a role at UCLA’s Semel Institute for Neuroscience and Human Behavior, where she ran clinical trials and published in several peer reviewed medical journals. This fueled her passion for creating individualized treatment plans for psychiatric patients, so she went back for a Psychiatry residency, became board certified, and received the status of Diplomate from the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. After being the Medical Director of Behavioral Health at a hospital, she opened her own private practice, where she continues to work.

Dr. Hovav has always advocated with patients, when appropriate, for the combination of traditional and complementary medicine. She believes that one cannot replace the other, and together, they make a fantastic team.

Further training in functional and hormone medicine has given her the motivation to open a wellness clinic in Henderson, NV – the location she has been wanting to be in for over a decade.

Dr. Hovav is a mom to two kids, 16 and 19. Her hobby is dancing and competing in International Latin.
