HYDERABAD, TELANGANA, INDIA, January 31, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IndustryARC, in its latest report, predicts that Galactooligosaccharides Market size is estimated to reach $1,823 million by 2027, growing at a CAGR of 6.1% during the forecast period 2022-2027. Galactooligosaccharides are made up of galactose molecules, which are broken down into gases and short-chain fatty acids by good intestinal bacteria and absorbed and utilized by the body. Dairy products, legumes, and some root vegetables include galactooligosaccharides. They are also accessible in the form of prebiotic and soluble fiber supplements. These are discovered in medications for asthma, skin illnesses, digestive issues, food allergies, and colon cancer, among other ailments. It supports the development of Bifidobacteria in the large intestine, which is helpful. Food and nutritional supplements, as well as pharmaceuticals, include galactooligosaccharides.

Galactooligosaccharides (GOS) have been utilized as prebiotics in infant formulae and ordinary diets around the world. Galactosidases create GOS from lactose. GOS are nondigestible carbohydrates that are resistant to digestive enzymes in the gastrointestinal tract. GOS is a soluble dietary fibre that softens the stool and increases bowel movement frequency. In addition, cheese whey permeate is utilized to make concentrated lactose syrup, which is applied in the commercial manufacturing of GOS (Galactooligosaccharides). Milk products include a soaring quantity of galactooligosaccharides which is beneficial for health. Prebiotic dietary fibres serve as carbon sources for primary and secondary fermentation pathways in the colon, and back digestive health in numerous ways. Fructooligosaccharides, inulin, and galactooligosaccharides are customarily established prebiotics.
