Alexander Oelfke, CEO of SKYGROUND Group, Exclusively Announces Exciting New Partnership in the Metaverse Sector

According to STATISTA analysts, The Metaverse is projected to generate a turnover of 191 billion US dollars in the e-commerce sector alone by 2030.”

STATISTA, official statement

The lydian.world Metaverse is a unique virtual world that combines the excitement of gaming with the innovative power of blockchain technology. As a partially player-owned and operated platform, lydian.world Metaverse provides an advanced digital and interactive environment for users to experience.

The Metaverse is a fully immersive, digital world where users can bring their online Characters to life. Members can customize their avatars, engage in exciting games, shop for virtual items, connect with others, and establish their unique profile within the Metaverse. This interactive environment offers endless possibilities for exploration and expression.

As a technology provider, SKYGROUND supports many major online brokers worldwide with first-class technology modules, using similar trading technology, such as MT4 and MT5, also used by established traditional brokers like IG Group, Swissquote, and BDSwiss. The difference is that the lydian.world Metaverse do not involve any of traditional currencies such Euro, US Dollar, and British Pound, making it a truly distinctive opportunity in the FinTech world.

The lydian.world Metaverse platform has a unique system based on blockchain as well as an all-round solution on blockchain technology, which is one of the most transparent and transformative technologies of our time.

According to STATISTA analysts, The Metaverse is projected to generate a turnover of 191 billion US dollars in the e-commerce sector alone by 2030.
