“WLMG’s relationship with Radium Technologies Inc. is yet another step towards becoming the general contractor of choice for industry leaders across northern Alberta,” said Andy Harnett, Chief Operating Officer, WLMG. Adding, “Radium Technologies has recently opened a major 12,000 sq. ft. fabrication shop and office in the Fort McMurray Region that will be an integral element of our partnership moving forward.”

Radium Technologies Inc. is an industry leader, providing construction and maintenance services to the heavy industrial, mining, agriculture, oil and gas industries across Western Canada since 2007. Radium’s reputation as an industry leader is rooted in an all-encompassing corporate vision to supply only premium services to their clientele while ensuring a strong commitment to HSE and Community in everything they do. Radium Technologies and WLMG will initially focus their strategic partnership around pump and valve rebuilds, maintenance, and electrical instrumentation in Northern Alberta’s oil and gas sector.

“At Radium technologies our mission is to add value to people by serving them. This new partnership alongside WLMG and the people of the WLMN is directly aligned with our values and vision for the future of the industry,” said Dan Forigo, Chief Corporate Officer, Radium technologies Inc. Adding, “this strategic partnership is a big step forward for Radium Technologies and WLMG as we continue to grow our presence in the Wood Buffalo region and across Northern Alberta.”
