Conveniently located in Beaufort, Camden, Cheraw, Chester, Dillon, Kingstree, Lake City, Loris, Manning, Mullins, Pageland, Union, and Walterboro, Lowcountry Urgent Care provides easy access to quality care for upper respiratory infections and other winter illnesses.

Rapid testing is available to all, with or without symptoms, so you can have peace of mind before traveling, returning home, or going back to the office after a holiday."

Suzy Buck, VP of Marketing & Operations, Lowcountry Urgent Care

Symptoms of these respiratory illnesses often overlap, making testing a crucial step in determining the best course of treatment.

Some of the common symptoms include:

Sore throat • Blocked nose • Runny nose • Coughing with no phlegm

Hoarse voice • Muscle pain • Altered sense of smell/taste • Fever • Sneezing

If you or a family member are experiencing any of these symptoms, visit Lowcountry Urgent Care for testing today.

"Rapid testing is available to all, with or without symptoms, so you can have peace of mind before traveling, returning home, or going back to the office after a holiday," said Suzy Buck, Vice President of Marketing and Operations at Lowcountry Urgent Care.

*Please note that access to rapid testing is dependent upon available supply at each center. To reduce wait times, making a reservation online is recommended.

We understand how stressful it can be when you or your child show signs of being ill due to any kind of respiratory virus, which is why we strive to make the experience as stress-free as possible. Our centers have extended hours and are open evenings and weekends, and our highly trained specialists provide personalized care for children and adults aged 6 months and older.
