"I am delighted that Confetti is hosting the British Esports' Esports in Education Summit again this year," said Craig Chettle MBE, Chief Executive, Confetti Media Group, part of Nottingham Trent University. "Confetti has been delivering the best creative educational experience for almost 30 years, and our aim now, as it has always been, is to prepare students for dynamic and exciting careers in the entertainment industries. We're excited to welcome guests from across the UK to our world-class facilities in Nottingham."

In a slight change to the agenda, there will now be an additional panel focused on 'How Esports Supports Progression to Higher Education'.

For a full breakdown of the summit's complete agenda, and to book your tickets, please visit the Esports in Education Summit ticket page.

With several new additions to the 2023 summit, including a Student Champs Showmatch alongside a brand new networking event, tickets are selling fast with limited quantities now available.

If you are an exhibitor and would like to enquire about exhibition availability in the networking area please contact info@britishesports.org.
