“

My true passion is to support people to live their most harmonious, healthy, vibrant life. That is what I have created with The Soul Institute.”

Adora Winqvist

is a visionary in the dawning arena of Quantum Alchemy, a transformative evolutionary path for self-mastery that facilitates healing at the DNA level. She has intertwined esoteric philosophy, psychospiritual dynamics, essential oil, and energy medicine through her 20+ years as a facilitator, formulator, and educator. As the creator and founder of Adoratherapy brand she formulated numerous internationally recognized blends of chakra-balancing oils, energy-clearing sprays, and messages of self-love and positive affirmations.

The natural products business was an extension of her healing work and mission to share personal growth principles and practices. Its great success in the market, as well as the media, with hyper-growth, cemented Adora's role as an international healer, healer, and visionary. This month, Adora officially exited Adoratherapy as she expanded her life purpose of guiding individuals through The Soul Institute for Quantum Living. Adora will touch millions of people's lives to help them through transformation and clear a path for their most loving, harmonious, and healthy relationships to unfold.

“My true passion is to support people to live their most harmonious, healthy, vibrant life,” says Winqvist, author of “Detox, Nourish, Activate: Plant and Vibrational Medicine for Energy, Mood, and Love.” “That is what I have created with The Soul Institute, the marriage of healing practices and mindset strategies, understanding core patterns and how they relate to the past, present, and future, all to encourage people to release that which no longer serves them and realize their deepest dreams and greatest goals. It is where my journey has taken me — to help others in a deep and meaningful way.”

The Soul Institute:

The Soul Institute is a co-creative educational platform that offers divine knowledge and ancient alchemical healing traditions for a modern, evolving world. This community is open to seekers at all levels of spiritual awakening and inclusive of all those committed to walking the path of self-mastery.

Adora believes every person has a unique gift that can contribute to the greater good of all first by transforming themselves. They can then claim their greatness and deeper fulfillment in life by releasing the limiting beliefs, thoughts, and emotions that no longer serve them. This healing journey involves steps to leave behind painful cycles of triggers and stress responses, sharing healing practices such as guided meditation and vibrational medicine, the use of essential oils and so much more.

The Love Frequency is The Soul Institute's signature immersive program for aspiring sacred leaders in modern times. This transformational experience will inspire individuals to grow a sacred intention to live in co-creation with the Divine to live, love, and lead in alignment with your heart frequency, including but not limited to:

- Greater joy and emotional resilience.
- Deeper intimacy in your relationships.
