There are tons of activities to choose from at Club Getaway, bike riding among them

This Summer camp-themed conference at Club Getaway is catered to adults living or pursuing a “work-from-anywhere” lifestyle including digital nomads, location independent entrepreneurs, #vanlifers, full-time travelers and others who are opting out of the status quo to live life on their terms.

Camp Indie at Club Getaway includes all workshops, fun summer camp activities like wakeboarding and archery, lodging in rustic-chic cabins, food, drinks, and plenty of s’mores and campfire sing-alongs. “When I was first getting started, I knew no one who wanted to live this type of lifestyle. I felt alone. That all changed when I went to a conference called the World Domination Summit a decade ago and met my business partner as well as a few people I now call my best friends. I quickly realized how impactful friendship, support, and advice from others on a similar life path can be," said Camp Indie co-founder Travis Sherry. "Since then, I've had a passion for getting people together offline and in real life and have hosted community gatherings in Austin, TX, Denver, CO, and Querétaro, Mexico."

"After speaking with Travis about Location Indie, it occurred to both of us that our brands complement each other perfectly. Club Getaway is all about Fun, Freedom, Friends, and Adventure in the great outdoors," said David Schreiber, Club Getaway's Owner and Operator "I'm so excited to be partnering with Travis in creating this extremely special event to bring together a community of independent entrepreneurs and digital nomads who do not want to live the 9-to-5 lifestyle."

About Location Indie:

Travis Sherry, co-founder of Location Indie, once had a hard time finding other people who understood their desire to travel more and work from anywhere - a lifestyle dubbed "Location Independent." Through his experience running location independent businesses, he discovered the key to happiness and success was having a like-minded community of friends to lean on for support, advice, and laughs. That's why Location Indie was born. The community offers members monthly live accountability calls, online training events, travel-themed discussions, and hosts a private social network for members. Sponsorship opportunities for Camp Indie are available. Contact trav@extrapackofpeanuts.com to learn more.
