Colorado Aromatics, a woman owned natural skincare brand announces the release of its latest product, Elder B Essence. This all natural product uses hydrolats distilled on Colorado Aromatics Farm, partnered with actives to provide instant and deep hydration to skin. Fennel hydrolat is used to help the skin hold moisture while decreasing hyperpigmentation.

Niacinamide, a popular ingredient now, is a star ingredient. This B vitamin is used for its ability to hydrate and brighten skin, while helping the skin barrier function. Paired with hyaluronic acid and other humectants this product will moisturize skin, protect the skin from sun damage and oxidative damage.

Elder B Mist

Colorado weather provides challenges for skin and people who work or play outdoors can experience dry, ruddy skin and premature aging caused by exposure to weather and the environment.

Elder B Essence was designed to help decrease skin damage caused by the outdoors as well as from pollution. The user can expect healthier skin, decreased appearance of wrinkles, brighter skin and an overall boost to skin health.
