

Nigel Southway Presents Guide to Revitalizing Western Industries

A Roadmap to "Take Back Manufacturing: An Imperative for western economies" revealed

NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, February 8, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- In his new book, author, engineer and business consultant Nigel Southway raises awareness of the decline of the manufacturing sectors in western nations, resulting in a loss of national prosperity. This shows the need to "Take Back Manufacturing," and he describes a process to achieve this in his new book.

Southway explains how the globalized manufacturing approach through the use of efficient supply chains that are supported by liberalized free trade agreements has been the business norm for the last few decades, but Southway points out that this has been the prime reason for the "hollowing out" of most western nations' industrial base.

Southway explains that another paradigm shift is coming. Experts predict that global and national economic conditions will change in such a way that will provide western economies with an opportunity to return to more localized trade blocs, which will allow for the reshoring of their manufacturing sectors.

"Some Western nations are not considered a logical reshoring destination, and experts predict further decline in manufacturing, but this book provides a perspective and outlook that suggests that with the correct political will and focus they could recover their manufacturing industries and improve future prosperity." Southway explains. By developing a plan to "Take Back
