Cornwall, England – Travelers have never been able to get more for their money when buying British pounds. For Americans, now is a great time to visit the UK and specifically the English county of Cornwall.

For many years, one US dollar has been worth less than one pound. However, since late 2022, the dollar has strengthened against the pound and has reached over a pound in value. Anyone planning to visit the UK is in an excellent financial position to do so now, as they will be able to exchange more pounds for their dollars.
