online payments.

DB Investing already has a long list of 13 available payment solutions covering the worldwide regions, offering clients a curated list of funding options, suitable for their needs. Binance Pay is the last one added, after Bank transfer, credit cards, crypto deposits and different alternative and local payment methods in MENA region, Latin America, Asia and Africa.

The company's goal is to cover all regions in the world, making it as convenient as possible for everyone to access the world of finance – no matter where they live.

Leading in Innovation

One of the company's executives Gennaro Lanza has remarked on the importance of the integration:

“We are proud to be among the first brokers in the world to introduce Binance Pay as a funding option. We will retain our role as an innovative leader in our industry”. “Think globally, act locally”, it's an old but always working slogan. Especially for the payment methods, since each region and country has its regulations and we need to adapt and add big regulated payment companies to keep our client's funds safe and sure.

The company is continuously closing new deals with regulated companies, in a very competitive market like the Forex Broker, which is full of small and medium scam companies.
